Foods of the Bible
The following information is for educational purposes and not intended to be a substitute for professional medical or nutritional advice, diagnosis or treatment. Individuals should seek the advice of a qualified health professional with any questions they may have regarding a medical condition.
In the Bible, certain foods are mentioned to provide nourishment to the body. The foods of biblical times were all natural, unprocessed, fresh foods. In that time, there were no preservatives, pesticides, hormones or antibiotics added to food. Many/most of these foods were likely very high in vitamins, minerals and other cancer fighting properties. We encourage your diet to be high in these fresh foods mentioned in the bible.

Remember these seven tips to nourish your body...

• Eat foods in as close to their natural state as possible.
• Shop the perimeter of the grocery store.
• “Go for the color” when choosing fruits and vegetables.
• Drink filtered water and varieties of tea.
• Purchase organic, farmer’s market and/or in-season produce.
• Invest in olive oil and organic butter. Limit margarine and other hydrogenated fats.

Set an example; offer healthy snacks at parties and gatherings. The American Institute for Cancer Research (AICR) agrees - limiting processed foods high in added sugar, fat, and/or low in fiber, along with eating a diet full of vegetables, fruits, whole grains and beans may protect against cancer both directly, as well as indirectly by making it easier to achieve and maintain a healthy body weight.
